THE PRIMARY ELECTION to-day, while conducted quietly, has been one of the most active ever held in this city. The candidates for legislative honors with their coadjutors were up and at it early this morning, and throughout the day they have gone hither and thither determined to leave no stone unturned which will in the slightest degree contribute toward success. Carriages have rattled through the streets conying voters to the polls, and cigars and—other election day adjuncts have distributed unsparingly. It was issued as an exhibit of progress and resources of the city. It was filled with handsome portraits, cuts of buildings, maps and landscape scenery. The edition required a large expenditure of time, money, taste and scenery. The edition required a large expenditure of time, money, taste and energy. The managers are to be congratulated for their splendid show of enterprise and ability. To Alexandrians out of town a copy of this edition would be a revelation and a source of pleasure. We suggest that such of our readers send for a copy—Climper.

A STORM IS APPROACHING.—A severe wind and rain storm is due here tonight, if it does not switch off. It was prevailing along the Gulf and South At-lantic coasts yesterday, and is due on the Virginia coast to night. Cautionary signals have been flying along the Atlantic seaboard to warn masters of the approaching danger. Heavy rain and violent squalls will make navigation particularly dangerous to coasting vessels under sail. The gale struck Mobile, Ala., at noon yesterday, and in a short time parts of the city were under water.

CLUB DISBANDED.—The Alexandria Club, a social organization, composed of a number of leading citizens, which has been in existence for a number of years, has disbanded, owing, it is said, to a difference of opinion which has existed among its members for the past few months concerning the manage-ment of the club and of the construction of the rules governing the organization.
